

Web Accessibility Matters

Nearly 20% of undergraduate students in the United States have a disability, yet 70% of major universities have poor web accessibility. At GradLeaders, we're trying to remove barriers to using our application and reduce the risk of legal problems our partner schools may face by using technology that is not compliant.

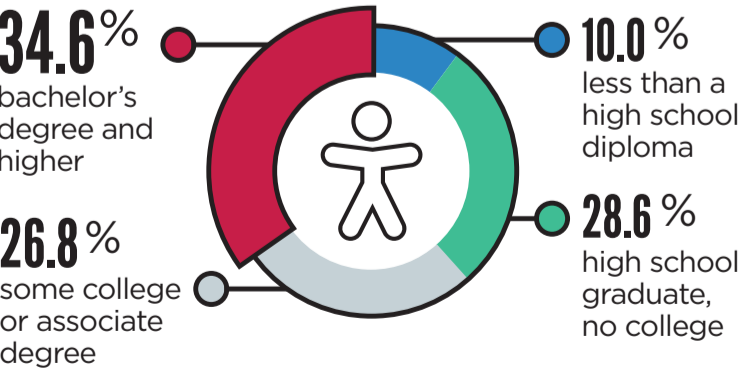

SOURCE: U.S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics. (2019). Digest of Education Statistics, 2017 (NCES 2018-070).

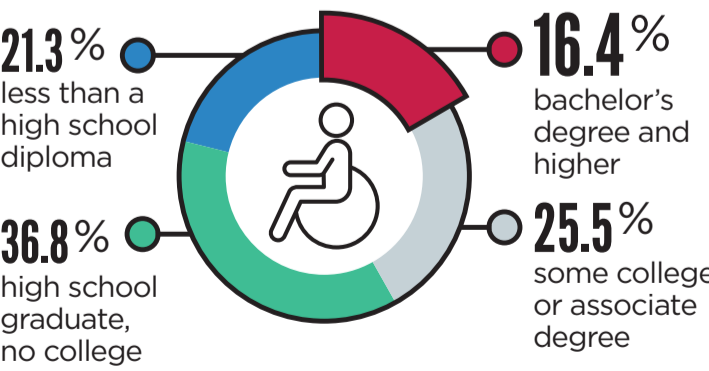

EDUCATION LEVEL

Educational attainment of people age 25 and older with and without disabilities.

WITHOUT A DISABILITY

WITH A DISABILITY

SOURCE: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

GradLeaders.com/Accessibility

GradLeaders is more than just a software provider. We create meaningful connections between career centers and recruiters to better match students with jobs. Our innovative career services and campus recruitment tools automate processes to give talent acquisition teams, career centers, and experiential learning programs more time to do what they love. Our network, data, and expertise helps career centers and employers succeed.

@GradLeaders

